AFTER THE BAPTISM WE DECLARED
LIVING THE LIFE WE HAVE RECEIVED

“Therefore, as you received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk in him.”

- Colossians 2:6

We make a big deal about taking water baptism.

We prepare for it, pray for it, and celebrate it with songs, photos, and testimonies. But after the water dries and the applause fades, something often goes quiet. We stop making a big deal about what comes after - showing up, staying connected, and growing together in faith.

BAPTISM IS THE BEGINNING, NOT THE FINISH LINE

Too often, we treat baptism like a finish line - as if that one act proves our faith or completes our Christian duty. But baptism was never meant to be the end of the journey; it's the beginning of a new life.

It's like planting a seed: it's beautiful and full of promise, but if we stop watering it, it won't grow.

Our baptism should not just be a memory of commitment but a daily reminder to live out that commitment - in worship, in fellowship, and in love.

WE ALL SHARE THE RESPONSIBILITY

It's easy to say, “The church doesn't follow up,” or “No one cares after baptism.”

But if we are the church, then we are part of that responsibility.

- We can reach out to a new believer and ask, “How's your walk with God going?”
- We can show up even when it feels routine.
- We can be that steady friend who listens, prays, and encourages.
- We can model what spiritual growth looks like through faithfulness and humility.

Discipleship isn't just the pastor's job - it's everyone's calling. Growth happens when we walk together, not when we wait for someone else to make it happen.

LET'S NOT LOSE THE WONDER

Maybe we've grown used to the ceremony of baptism and forgotten its meaning. Each time someone steps into the water, it's not just a tradition - it's a resurrection moment.

It's the public declaration: “I've decided to follow Jesus - no turning back.”

That kind of decision deserves not only a celebration but also continued companionship.

If heaven rejoices when one soul turns to Christ, shouldn't we keep rejoicing - and walking with them - afterward?

FROM EVENT TO EVERYDAY FAITH

We can't stop at the water's edge.

Faith grows when we keep showing up - when we worship, serve, learn, and live accountable to one another. When we stay connected in community, we remind each other why we were baptized in the first place: to follow Jesus, together.

So instead of saying, “The church forgot about us after baptism,” let's start saying, “We will not forget to live what baptism means.”

A CLOSING THOUGHT

Baptism is not just a declaration of faith - it's an invitation to a lifelong journey.

Let's make as much noise about living faithfully as we did about getting baptized.

Because the water may dry, but the call to follow never does.

MISSIONARIES REPORT

Dear friends,

It has been an honour to partner along with you in the service of God for the last six years. You have been my biggest support in prayers for my ministry, prayers for my spiritual wellbeing and prayers for my family. Your support in finance enabled me to serve the Lord in plenty. I appreciate your encouragements all through these years of service in the Lord's field.

Time for goodbyes...

My second term in the field has quickly gone by and it is time for me to return home for my Home Assignment. Leaving the people I have grown to love is very hard and it is harder to leave my teammates. Not knowing what the future holds and not knowing if I will ever see them again breaks my heart. For the last four years Chad has become my home, the people have become my people and I have become their daughter.

Pray for the seed sown...for God to make it grow

The students at the Sudanese refugee camp did well in their test. 29 of them came and took their test and received their certificates. Most of these students hopes to find a job with their English skills. Pray for these young men and women to seek Jesus.

Three girls were able to finish three months of English learning course called English in Action. This course is specifically design for evangelism. The course consists of stories from the Bible from Eve and Adam all the way to the Empty tomb. Out of the five girls registered only three could finish because of family circumstances. Pray that these three girls will continue to discover the love of Jesus in their life and encounter Jesus.

MISSIONARIES REPORT

Leaving these young girls have been particularly hard on me and also for them. I have grown to love them over these years. Showing little kindness and paying attention to them makes it a little easier for them to live on with their difficult disabilities. As my other teammates continue to minister to them even after I am gone, pray that they will be always reminded of the love of God for them.

Continue to pray for my two Arabic language helpers. We have enjoyed reading Bible for my lessons. They both never refused to read Bible with me but have been always open to reading and having conversation on what we read. I am praying at least one particular word will continue to stick in their hearts and they seek the Truth. It was a joy to see one of my teachers read John 3:16 by herself in Arabic written in Roman script. A teammate is teaching her literacy and she herself was proud that she can read the written roman script. She was trying so hard to memorise the verse.

Pray for local missionaries in our town. We have been a coworker in Christ. Many of these workers struggles with minimal financial support. Pray for encouragement in their hearts as they face difficulties and for God to provide for them.

'Those who go out weeping, carrying seed to sow, will return with songs of joy, carrying sheaves with them'...Psalm 126:6

PRAY FOR:

- Team members on the ground. There is a lot of transition in the team with members leaving and coming in. There is only two single women in the base for the next few months. Pray for their safety and encouragements.
- Pray for the people that I got to minister in the last few years in Chad.
- Pray for US colleagues who has visa issue to return to Chad or had to leave Chad.
- Pray for the Chadians to know Jesus.
- Pray for decisions I need to make for my future ministry.

It is a great joy to share this report on the activities and progress of our ministry during the past three months (July to September). We thank God for sustaining us and for the faithful service of every member in advancing His kingdom.

- The department organized doctrinal classes for teenagers to help them understand the fundamental teachings of the Christian faith. the sessions covered key biblical doctrines in a simple and engaging manner, helping children to grow in faith and sound understanding of God's word.
- As part of the holistic approach to children's growth, the department organized class outing to promote fellowship, teamwork, and social development among the children. This event allowed children to engage in recreational and educational activities, fostering camaraderie, creativity and practical learning.

We give heartfelt gratitude to our Almighty God for His guidance and blessings throughout the months. We pray that God's continued guidance, protection and grace be upon us as we strive to serve the children and the community. WATER BAPTISM

Thinking of taking WATER BAPTISM? Congratulations! It is a significant and beautiful step forward in your spiritual maturity and understanding. Baptism symbolizes your public commitment to Jesus Christ and your desire to grow deeper in faith.

However, it's important to remember that baptism is not a ticket to salvation. Salvation comes through faith in Jesus alone, and baptism is an outward expression of that faith—it is never something done out of compulsion or pressure but always a matter of the heart.

As you reflect on your readiness, consider these questions seriously:

- Have you personally accepted Jesus as your Lord and Savior?
- Do you understand that baptism symbolizes the death of your old self and resurrection to new life in Christ?
- Are you ready to live a life following Jesus, obedient to His teachings?
- Is your desire to be baptized coming from your own conviction and love for Jesus, not from obligation?

When you are confident in these answers, the next step is to stand before the congregation during one of the evening services to publicly confess that you understand and accept Jesus and are ready to be baptized. Here is an example you can say in front of the congregation when asking for water baptism:

"I stand here today to publicly declare my faith in Jesus Christ as my Lord and Savior. I believe He died for my sins and was raised to give me new life. Baptism is my way of showing obedience to Jesus and committing to follow Him. I am ready to take this step and ask to be baptized."

After this public confession, you will be invited to attend a baptism class where you will learn more about the meaning and significance of baptism. Following this, the church deacons will counsel you personally to support and guide you as you prepare for your baptism day.

This process ensures that your baptism is a heartfelt declaration and a milestone in your spiritual journey. May God bless you richly as you take this important step!

Prayer and Fasting - Every 2nd Friday of the Month at Tefillah Center

Welcome to our CHURCH FAMILY!

We are overjoyed to welcome you into our church family! Whether you are new to the faith or seeking a deeper relationship with God, please know that you are not just a visitor here—you are home.

We invite you to freely share in times of thanksgiving, seek counselling or prayer, or reach out for support in any area of life. Our doors and hearts are always open to walk with you, encourage you, and grow with you in the love of Jesus Christ.

We also warmly encourage you to get connected by joining one of our fellowship groups:

- Men's Fellowship
- Women's Fellowship
- Youth Fellowship
- Children's Fellowship

These groups offer a place of spiritual growth, encouragement, and community. If you haven't registered yet, please do so with one of our ushers or leaders after the service—or reach out to the church office for assistance.

Once again, welcome. We are grateful to God for leading you here, and we look forward to journeying together in faith and love.
